

I would just like to say that I want to keep Voom service the way that it is. It should not be sold as this would create less competition and thus could potentially drive prices of the other two services up. Voom should stay.